

*It's been fifty years since Pat became Court's wife
Who knew then that coaching would be their life?
They've covered lots of miles and made many friends
Relationships are what's important in the end.
Hard work and service have been themes they have taught
When someone needed help, they were often sought.
Four kids, three missions, and a few grandkids too
They like to be busy and have something to do.
They are just now returning from serving in Nauvoo
Come help us celebrate and let them see you.*
